DEPLOYMENT ARCHITECTURE

Run Baseline model and final model on local computer

Load model and its features to pickle file

Flask loads the model from pickle file and runs it on a server

API takes feature values as input in json format and outputs the prediction is json format

Test model deployment using Postman